

Verifier's Part

Thank you so much for holding on line my name is _____ how are you? Let me explain you again as you know this call is about new state regulated final expense whole life insurance plans that are designed to cover 100% cost of burials, funerals, cremations or any other debts or obligations that you may leave, God forbid if you die tonight, tomorrow or the day after tomorrow. All of these policies will be whole life insurance that will never expire on you and their rates will never go up regardless of your age or health conditions. I would like to ask you a few questions and then as soon as we are done I will have you speak to a licensed insurance agent who will provide you with a quote. Is that okay with you?

So let me quickly verify:

Do you make your own Financial Decisions?

Do you have an active checking's or Savings account?

A lot of people use this coverage for 3 reasons Burial, Cremation or leaving some money for their loved ones. Would you like to go for a cremation policy or a Burial one?

Will it be your first coverage or you are trying to add one?
